1881: Hottest temperature ever recorded in Europe of 122°F (50°C) in Seville, Spain.

2000: It rains fish on the fishing port of Great Yarmouth, England, during a thunderstorm. It is likely due to a waterspout carrying the fish to the rain clouds.

1992: Hurricane Andrew first forms. Damage in the U.S. alone is estimated to be near $25 billion, making it the most expensive natural disaster in U.S. history.

1559: The first recorded hurricane in U.S. history hits Pensacola, Florida, driving five Spanish ships ashore.

1776: General George Washington evacuates his troops from Long Island, New York, (including 9,000 men, their equipment, and cargo) using a dense fog at night as cover.
